Bürstner launches new compact camper van layout

The new C 530 layout is the bestselling model Copa's "big brother". Despite its compact size, the around 30cm longer layout offers a pop-top roof accessed from the rear in combination with a washroom.

Kehl. Bürstner is extending its successful Copa model range further. The current Copa C 500 will not only be joined by the Copa C 500 4x4 off-road version but also by an around 30cm longer layout: the Copa C 530, which offers even more living comfort.

For a start, the washroom area has been integrated at the rear of the layout. It comes with a fold away sink and a fixed cassette toilet. An add-on shower tray that can be stored on the tailgate and a shower curtain perfect the practical washroom features. The pull-out tap can also be used as a shower head.

In this new layout, the standard pop-top roof is accessed from the rear. This creates a comfortable headroom height in the rear shower. The pop-top roof is also equipped with a double-fold bed conversion mechanism that equally provides plenty of headroom almost all the way throughout the vehicle. It also comes with a panorama feature: The front third of the pop-top roof's canvas fabric can be opened.

The standard Copa C 530 features a folding bench seat bed as well as additional seating next to the kitchen area. An additional single seat is also available as an optional extra. The standard version is equipped with two sliding doors for comfortable access.

The other optional extras in addition to the already extensive range of standard features include a diesel heating system and the complete, already available range of Copa accessories such as an awning, a rear tent etc.

Other optional extra packs such as the "Home Pack", for example, offer even more "wohnfühlen" home-away-from-home comfort. This pack consists of cab and habitation blackout blinds, a hot water boiler, a compressor refrigerator and an additional storage compartment underneath the bench. The other available packs are an Active Pack, an Electrics Pack and also Ford Comfort packs with and without smart cruise control.

The Copa C 530 will be available in Germany from the summer of 2022 onwards.
